George Weisgerber and John Reifz went to Pittsburgh yesterday, where Reitz will commence practicing over the lower Allegheny course, upon which his race with Snyder is to be rowed next Saturday. A gentleman from Pittsburgh told a reporter last night that Snyder's friends are offering bets freely at odds of ten to seven on their man. Toward the last of the week, when the Wheeling boys get up there in some numbers, they will find takers without much difficulty. The announcement that Billy Briceland would go to Pittsburgh yesterday to meet O'Hanlon and try to make a race, is said to have been a mistake. He did not go, and parties in his confidence say he will not go, though he will send money up and authorize representatives to make a race with O'Hanlon if it can be done on reasonable terms. The general opinion here is that O'Hanlon does not want a race with Billy for various reasons, and that he is only "codding" in all his preliminary talk. Whether this is true or not events will show.

The L., W. & Ky, railroad will probably run an excursion train to Pittsburgh to the Snyder-Beitz race Saturday.

Whenever there is a big fire in this city, there is usually some trouble about the hydrant. This is the result of the extra men system. There are two styles of lang in use in this city, one of which opens to the left and the other to the right; the extramen are not drilled, and the result is they do not know the difference, and usually turn the wrong way, breaking wrenches and tightening up the plugs.

David Arkdar, of the Eighth ward, who resides on the river bank just above the landing of Benson's Ferry, is most assuredly an unlucky man. He is employed in the nuck rolling department of the Benwood mill. Last November a piece of flying iron struck him in the neck, narrowly missing the jugular vein, and relieving him of so much blood that he was unable to work for several days. About two months ago be had three fingers cut off while at work, and yesterdary morning he had his left eye so seriously burned by a "mash," that it is feared he will entirely lose it.

in my buggy and I'll point out a few things."

As the day was a pleasant one the weary pedestrian was only to happy too have a chance to ride, and accepted the invitation. The citizen headed his horse southward on one of the principal streets of the city, and started out with the firm determination to talk the reporter's arm off. Suddenly something on the pavement attracted the attention of the two and they failed to notice a huge crossing stone lying out in the street until the buggy wheel went over it and came down with a joit that was ruinous to springs. For a minute the air was blue as the driver prophesied, and then he said "Yow what is that stone there for? the crossing is down all right and has been for weeks; and yet I know that stone has been there all the time. Why don't the Street Commissioner take it away? Have we a Street Commissioner take it away? Have we a Street Commissioner Oh, yes, we've got one, and I tell you he's a dalsy. Why, I can mane a hundred places like that, and while we are talking about that, let me call your attention to the mountain of stone at the Postoffee corner. It's a burning, howling shame; that's what it is," and the citizen ground his teeth syling scattered all around.

It's about time we were having Boards I think," and so the citizen continued to talk until the Eighth ward was reached. Driving down Jacob the called the reporter's attention to the street roller that was purchased at a big cost, used on Sixteenth and Jacob streets for a time and now lies useless on Fortieth street, where it has been for the past year and a half. It should be taken somewhere or sold.

At the corner of Jacob and Forty-eighth streets the driver stopped. Here is a vacant field with no fence. All this time the boys have been having fun with the joints, rolling them around and throwing stones at them. Officer Kennedy strolled up and said a large number had been broken. Our friend who had been quiet now broke out, "Oh! its a beautiful system, and one that should be preserved in alcohe."

Tarning around a ride of half an hour was had and the wharf was reached, where the thirty inch mains were unloaded. Here several neck joints are lying around, some near the curb and some near the curb and some near the curh and some present series, having never been removed. "All along the line of the thirty inch main," said our friend, "You will find 1ron and crossing stones and piles of dirt. I can show you obstructions that have not been touched for months. lews of Two Representatives of Bosto

Two gentlemen from Boston were in Wheeling yesterday, "feeling" the wool man set, and trying to arrange with our loca ket, and trying to arrange with our local buyers to forward consignments to them when the market opens. They were Mr. Childs, representing the commission wool house of Fenno & Manning, of Boston, and Mr. L. Humphrey, of the firm of Manning, the commission, and their representatives are now traversing and their representatives are now traversing the wool growing region and inquiring into the prospects of the yield and other matters of a nature to affect the market.

The nature of their crand was such that these gentlemen did not care to give much publicity to their movements, and they were manufacturers, is having its effect afrendy, these gentlemen say, and if their forebodings are realized the wool market will probably feel the effect decidedly.

Talks with local wool men developed the fact that the views of Messrs. Childs and Humphreys are looked upon as rather bearish. As one gentleman remarked, the commission men are disposed to talk down the market, so that they can handle consignments with some profit to themselves and a fair margin to the consignor. There is almost no wool soil by commission for Wheeling parties, however. One large buyer said yesterday that he had not made a consignment for seven or eight years, and he knew that the other principal buyer had not consigned any wool for four or five years. He thought the Boston gentlemen found little encouragement here.

A scene in Court.

An amusing trial was heard in 'Squire Sweeney's court yesterday. Captain Billy Prince was arrested by Special Constable Lauchlin on a warrant issued by the 'Squire, on complaint of Joseph Hodimann, who ayerred that the the Captain had used loud and abusive language, of a nature to provoke a breach of the peace. The Captain denied the oflensive language, but becoming provoked in the course of the trial at the testimony of the prosecuting witness, he repeated the opprobrious epithets with emphasis. The court reprinanded bim, but he immediately repeated the oflense, adding that he 'would make his d—d head pay for this,' The 'Squire thereupon fined him Sig for contempt, and required kim of the state hoad in the sum of $300 this." The 'Squire thereupon fined him sign for contempt, and required him sign for contempt, and required him to give bond in the sum of $300 to keep the pence for one year. Subsequently Capt. Prime retained B. B. Dovener as his counsel, and he secured the remittance of the fine. The bond was given with satisfactory security. The Captain then wanted to know where the bond was in force, and heing told anywhere in West Virginia, he said: "All right! But I'll be in Pittsburgh some day, and so will he, and I'll make his head suffer for this!" Friends of the Captain then got him out of the court, seeing that another fine, or something worse, was impending.

The Pittsburgh agents of the insurance commanies, beyone rights on the matternance.

The Pittsburgh agents of the insurance companies having risks on the whip and broom shops at the prison arrived here Saturday morning last, and promptly adjusted their losses to the satisfaction of the insured. The amount agreed upon was, I understand, 500 to reach of the firms. The whips brooms, material and machinery belonging to both shops were replaced Friday evening, and work will be resumed as soon as things can be put in shape.

A gentleman who visited the southern abutment of the lilg Grave Creek bridge, now about completed, yesterday, says that owing to the insceure foundation upon which the masonry stands, it is unable to custain its own weight, and is gradually sinking. The County Commissioners and the contractor for the stone work, together with the agent of the bridge company that has the contract for the superstructure, will meet on the ground to-day for the purpose of endeavoring to agree upon some plan for building the bridge, as it is now fully conceded that the original plan must be abandoned. sary for the cure of general debility, weal ness, lassitude, &c. Waneta Tribe, I. O. R. M., entertained their visiting brethren from Bellaire and Wheeling very handsomely at Henry Flotos, on Saturday night, and many scalps were loose vesterday. Clerk Hanes has received his annual memorandum from the County Auditor, setting forth the valuation for fax purposes, it is as follows: Township school, valuation, 936,473; Township, $2,708,230; Corporation $35,103.

-The funeral of Wm. Taylor, who was silled on the railroad Sunday morning, tool killed on the ruilroad Sunday morning, took place from the Town Hall yesterday afternoon, Rev. Q. R. Jones, of the M. E. church, conducting the services. A large number of people attended. Your account of the accident in yesterday morning's paper said that the whole train ran over him. This was incorrect. The man was run over on a side truck, by a gondola car which was being shifted thereon, only one truck of which passed over him. He was carried to the station and properly attended to by Drs. Ong and Blackford, until Dr. Todd's arrival and afterward.

Col. C. E. Irwin, mustering officer of the G. A. R. for this district, mustered the new post of the Grand Army at St. Clairsville on Saturday night, assisted by Comrade Abe
Lash and a number of other members of Lash and a number of other members of Thoburn Post. The new post has been named Drummond, in honor of Capt. Drum-mond, who is buried in the cemetery there. The following officers were elected and in-stalled; C. J. F. Charlesworth; S. V. C. C. W. Carroll; J. V. C., Sanuel Hilles; Q. M., Jas. A. Barnes; O. D., W. S. Kennon; O. G., Simon Jones; Adjutant, Henry M. Davies; S. M., Ilenj. S. McBride; S. M. S., W. S. Hobbs. The Post is composed of splendid material, and will give a good account of itself.

Mord Nelson's C. & P. yard engine was taken to the Wellsville shops Monday by him for repairs. No. 18, in charge of engineer Coffman, is doing duty in its stead.

It is said that so far not one of the Bellaire saloon keepers has applied for a Government license, without which they cannot carry on their business afer May 1. No doubt many besides those who have announced their intention so to do will close their saloons on that date.

The water for the Fourth ward should be a supported to the saloons of the saloons of tention so to do will close their saloons on that date.

The water for the Fourth ward school house is turned on again for the present. The Water Works Trustees and the School Board met together with the City Solicitor and found the law to plainly require water necessary for the school houses to be given free of charge.

The cost of indulging in luxuries seems to be advancing. Mayor Cooper's fine Monday morning for an unfortunate's blain drunk with added profanity was $27.50, and the culprit did not get even the old cents remitted. The police court's Monday morning contribution to the city treasury was altogether quite a respectable sun, and Sunday was a very quiet day in Bellaire, too.
